Attorney general's opinion excludes city residents from building code vote

BY DENA BISNETTE

An official written opinion from an assistant state attorney general barring city residents from voting in a county building code referendum Nov. 4 is on its way to Hancock County.

According to Board of Supervisors Attorney Gerald Gex, the opinion was scheduled to have been mailed Friday.

The opinion was written by Assistant Attorney General Sam Keyes and was approved by committee earlier this week.

In a verbal opinion obtained earlier by Attorney Joseph Gex Jr., Keyes states that the intent of the local and private bill that authorized the referendum was to exclude residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland from participation in the referendum because the two cities already have a building code.

The matter was originally questioned by Hancock County Election Commissioner Charles Gottschalk, who said he received written permission from Gex Friday to alter the ballots for the city precincts.

The ballots had already been printed with the referendum included.

Gottschalk had questioned the matter because the bill does not state whether city residents can participate and refers only to "qualified electors."

In addition to the referendum, voters will participate in one special election and one general election as well as deciding which of five proposed amendments should be added to the state constitution.

In addition, Waveland voters will choose aldermen and Democratic Executive Committee members in a city election.

The precincts for the city election and the county election are not the same and Waveland voters will vote in two locations.

All Waveland voters may participate in the city election at Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue, but must report to their respective county precincts to vote in the other races.

The special election is for Justice Court Judge, West District.

The candidates include Barbara Frierson, who has been serving as interim judge since the death of Judge Horatio Frierson Jr., and challengers Al Arnold and J.D. "Toey" Miller.

The general election includes county school board posts in Beat One and Beat Two, the District Five U.S. Congress race and Mississippi Supreme Court Judge District Two, Post One.

The school board candidates in Beat One include Archie G. Courge and Frank J. Miller.

Beat Two candidates include incumbent Monvel Cuevas, Barbara Dedeaux, David M. Hamilton, Woodrow M. Linder and Tangle Smith.

The Congressional race includes incumbent Representative Trent Lott, a Republican, and Democrat Larry J. Albritton.

J. Ruble Griffin is unopposed in the Supreme Court election.

The amendments include creation of an educational trust fund in the state treasury, provisions for the State Treasurer to succeed himself in office, authorization for the Legislature to extend the maximum lease term on some 16th Section lands, creation of a trust fund for the Public Employees Retirement System and provisions for the governor to succeed himself in office with a limitation of two terms.

Only two races in Waveland's city election are contested. They include Ward One alderman and Ward Four alderman.

In Ward One, incumbent Barbara A. Rappold will face Rhonda A. Patton and Woody Pearce.

In Ward Four, the incumbent is Herman Yarborough. He is opposed by Shirley Cox.

Ward Two Alderman Bob Hubbard and Ward Three Alderman Louis Smolensky are unopposed.

Mayor John Longo Jr. is also unopposed in the Democratic primary.

Also on the Waveland ballot are candidates for the city's Democratic Executive Committee. Voters will select five from six candidates, including Milton C. Bernard, Joseph "Jay" B. Fleuret Jr., Clarence Harris, Ruth Mellett, Dolores Richmond and Beverly Zimmerman.

PEARLINGTON HOME DESTROYED—Firefighters struggle vainly to save the Pearlington residence of Mrs. Anna Mae Lewis Saturday morning. Units with firefighters from West Hancock and BaySide Park Volunteer Fire Departments responded to the fire which apparently started in the kitchen, according to Hancock County Deputy Sheriff George Burleson. A son of Mrs. Lewis said his mother was not at home when the fire was discovered. Flames were coming through the roof of the one-story frame dwelling when firefighters arrived at the scene. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Hancock County Sheriff's also reported no incidents.

Police Reports

ROOFING SCAM

Bay St. Louis Police are looking for four men who robbed an elderly couple of $5,000 on Tuesday.

They are also asking people who are approached by unknown persons claiming to be roofers or contractors to call the police immediately.

According to the police report, four men in a green pickup truck with a short wheel base and a trifold ladder in the back stopped in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welsey McArthur at 131 Felicity St. about 2:30 p.m.

Two men stayed in the truck. The other two entered the McArthur yard and said they were selling shingles and wanted to look at the McArthurs' roof.

While one man went up on the roof, the other asked McArthur for a drink of water, then apparently robbed the couple after McArthur went back outside.

The robbery and roofing scam is similar to another that occurred several months ago, and police suspect the same men may be involved.

One man was described as about 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weighing about 170 pounds.

The other was described as about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 175.

Both men were described as "Spanish looking," with straight black hair and accents.

BREAKING IN

A Pass Christian homeowner detained a Gulfport man, who was allegedly robbing his house, until police could arrive Tuesday night, Sgt. Tom Pustay said.

Thad Hoke, who lives on Demouelle Road, came home about 9 and found Marvin L. Dickerson, 30, 1817 Rich Ave., in his house, Pustay said.

Dickerson allegedly broke a window to get into the house.

When Hoke got home, Pustay said, Dickerson gave himself up and did not try to escape. Pustay said Hoke did not use a weapon to detain Dickerson.

Pustay said two black men were outside Hoke's home and fled in a red subcompact car when police arrived.

Dickerson was charged with burglary and taken to Harrison County Jail, where bond was posted at $10,000.

STOLEN AUTO

Bay St. Louis police have recovered a 1969 Chevrolet Camaro stolen Sunday in New Orleans.

The car was found in the parking lot of a body shop at Ulman and Dunbar avenues at about 8 a.m. Monday.

An investigation by Bay police led to another car, a Chevette owned by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chato of Bayside Apartments.

The Camaro engine had been removed from the stolen automobile and put into the Chevette, a police spokesman said.

New Orleans police still are investigating the matter, and no arrests have been made. Both cars have been impounded by the Bay police.

ESCAPEE CAUGHT

Richard Mayne, the last at-large escapee who fled the Hancock County jail earlier this month, has been caught in Florida and is being brought back to Hancock County.

His girlfriend, Tina Alphonso, 18, of Springwood Park was caught with him and is being charged with aiding and abetting and accessory after the fact to jail escape, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

Mayne, 20, charged with grand larceny, escaped from the jail on Oct. 3 with five other men by kicking out the bars of a window.

The other escapees either surrendered or were caught.

Peterson said police in Marianna, Fla. were notified after his office received information about Mayne's whereabouts.

Mayne and Alphonso were picked up by Marianna police at about 5 a.m. Tuesday at a house they were renting there.

Both Mayne and Alphonso voluntarily returned to Hancock County, Peterson.

"We feel that Alphonso was with Mayne shortly after his escape and has been with him ever since," he said.

The maximum sentence for aiding and abetting is 10 years. The maximum for accessory after the fact is five.

Veterans to assist in choosing new officer

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County veterans' organizations are assisting the board of supervisors as they look for a new veteran's service officer.

Veteran's Service Officer Michael Ladner has resigned.

Sandra Garber, who had been substituting for Ladner on days when Ladner attended out-of-town conferences, has been named interim veteran's service officer.

The board also voted to upgrade Garber's pay, which had been minimum wage, to $1,091 per month, which was Ladner's salary.

Jack Doyle, representing Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post 77 in Waveland, addressed the supervisors Thursday to request that American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans posts be allowed to make recommendations for the position.

Doyle said the person hired need not necessarily be a veteran, but must be familiar with the problems and needs of veterans and see that those needs are met.

Each post will make recommendations for the position and will assist the board in gathering information on applicants.

Representatives of each post will meet with board members at 10 a.m. Nov. 12. The board is expected to discuss the matter and possibly make a decision at the Nov. 13 meeting.

Garber has already been recommended by Danny Penton, who addressed the board on behalf of his father, J.D. Penton.

Penton said he and his father, who is a veteran, had visited Garber on one of the occasions when she substituted for Ladner and had received good service.

In other business, the board agreed to look into a request from Robert Barnes, general manager of Diamondhead, for resurfacing of the county road that runs through the subdivision; —Accepted a request from Penny Dunn, representing the U.S. Navy Oceanographic Office at National Space Technology Laboratories, for permission to temporarily place survey equipment in the Beach Road right-of-way at Clermont Harbor;

—Requested cost estimates from Ray Rosetti, manager of a regional landfill project located in Harrison County, on the possibility of Hancock County also using the regional landfill; —Approved a request from the City of Bay St. Louis for a sewerage easement across Hancock Medical Center property;

—Approved hiring Leo Ladner as a full-time sheriff's deputy;

—Finalized a $79,200 contract with Leon C. Miles Inc., for construction of the county's central maintenance barn on Highway 49 in Kiln;

—Voted three to two, with Beat Two Supervisor A.A. Keller and Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perdicaro voting no, to borrow $79,200 to pay for the central barn;

—Accepted an $8,000 grant from

Pearl River Basin Development District for a survey to determine locations of free-flowing artesian wells in the county; and —Accepted $4,500 in grant funds for research on more efficient heating and cooling of county buildings.

Some very important positions will be on the ballot for Tuesday's election.

It will be election day for the residents of the City of Waveland.

Two Hancock County School Board seats will be voted on, in addition to a county building code, Justice Court judge, U.S. Congressional seat, and five important state-wide amendments.

It is hope all Hancock County qualified electors will exercise their rights by voting for the candidates of their choice on Tuesday.

Every vote does count, as we can remember, especially in previous Waveland elections when one vote made the difference in an election's outcome several times.

Call your friends, remind them that Tuesday is election day. Those who lack transportation, you might offer to take them to the polls.

Remember, in Hancock County, the polls are open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Be sure to vote!

Friday was a very busy day for many Hancock Counties, especially the youngsters.

Halloween parties, trick-or-treating, haunted houses, in addition to a football game had scores of people on the streets Friday night.

The youngsters, and even some not too young, enjoyed the day and evening.

Schools and organizations gave parties, businesses and residents gave treats for the youngsters, this all added up to a wonderful community togetherness.

The employees of many businesses and governmental agencies all masked for the day, this added to the enjoyment of Halloween.

While on the subject of masking, the comment I heard on Friday was from a young civil servant who was questioned by a youngster about her costume.

I will not mention her name, but, she told me how a youngster asked since she was a 'Big Bird,' why did she have fat legs.

With that I will stop commenting on Halloween.

Events for the Hancock County Fair begin on Tuesday with the setups and will run through Saturday.

The fair will be held at the Fairgrounds located on Longfellow Road.

We hope to see you at the fair.

Dear Sir:

There are 26 foster children in Hancock County who need help this Christmas. The State did not provide us any funds to buy school clothes for these children this fall and it appears there will not be any State funds for Christmas this year.

These 26 children are residents of Hancock County who the Youth Court has removed from their own homes because they were neglected, abused, or found to be in need of

COMMISSION REPORT SIMILAR TO MISSISSIPPI EFFORTS

In the next few weeks, the Southern Growth Policies Board's Commission on the Future of the South will present its final report to state government leaders in the South.

This report, including portions already released, will conclude that the greatest potential for our region rests with our people. The development of human potential is our future.

These findings reflect our philosophy in Mississippi for the past several years. If we are to develop as a productive state, we must make life productive for individual Mississippians.

The report states that we must provide a well-trained work force, that we must provide programs for retraining displaced workers, and that we must keep an adequate labor supply for industries wishing to locate within our borders. We in Mississippi, working through our excellent junior colleges and the Governor's Office of Job Development and Training, use federal and state vocational and training funds to make sure that our work force remains ready for the jobs that open in our state. We work with individual industries to train or retrain their workers and we work with individuals to train them for these industries.

The Commission report will focus on the priority for educating our children. In Mississippi, we have made education the top service for state government. More than 60 percent of our state budget goes to education. Our school children are trained from kindergarten in the basics necessary for survival in today's world and in the specialized fields necessary for tomorrow's jobs.

The report also found that expansion of our existing industries in the South, not smokestack chasing, is the future to jobs in the region. Since 1984, the focus of the Governor's Office and the Department of Economic Development has been to aid existing industries in expansion or in staying open. Through this focus, we have created nearly 60,000 new jobs in Mississippi and have kept several industries open, meaning jobs staying in our state.

Finally, the report points out the importance of technology development for Southern states to compete with other states. We have established the Institute for Technology Development and the Technology Transfer Center in Mississippi, through the assistance of the state Legislature. These two programs are providing valuable training and jobs for those who are interested in careers in technology. These programs will also help Mississippi keep abreast with the latest technology and make our state competitive for these types of industries, as well.

Based on the anticipated findings of the Commission on the Future of the South, I am very encouraged that Mississippi's actions have already secured us a competitive place in that future. We have made that investment and commitment, and it will pay off in the long run.

LIABILITY-AN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ISSUE

He's a relative newcomer to Mississippi. His manufacturing plant stands alongside a highway in a rural South Mississippi setting. He is pleased with his community's response to his job-producing manufacturing firm and he is happy with his Mississippi-style quality of life.

But he has a major concern. His manufacturing plant in Mississippi is one of several the parent company owns, spread across the South and Northeast.

There is a significant difference in his operations here and in his other locations.

On an average of once each month now he is being sued in Mississippi for some alleged damage or injury. He has a similar manufacturing operation in Georgia. The facility in Georgia has operated there for 23 years - there has never been a liability suit filed against the company in that state.

Most of the lawsuits filed against the company, he believes, are frivolous, just someone looking for the deepest pockets in South Mississippi.

A recent poll of Mississippi business men and women has indicated that the problem of liability insurance and lawsuits is one of the most serious issues facing business today in this state.

Liability insurance is an economic development issue, as is the problem of runaway lawsuits.

Mississippi doesn't need the reputation of being a "dumping ground" for lawsuits, nor does it need a reputation as a state where manufacturers and other businesses are threatened by a constant barrage of questionable damage suits.

REPORT

FROM THE OFFICE OF

ATTORNEY GENERAL

ED PITTMAN

MISSISSIPPI NEEDS VICTIMS' RIGHTS LAW

Mississippi is one of only seven states which provide no compensation or aid to victims of violent crime, and Attorney General Pittman is hoping that the next session of the Legislature will pass several bills which will give victims of these crimes at least the same rights and privileges that the state now gives to criminals.

Pittman and the AG staff are working with several members of the Legislature and researching the laws of other states to present to the next session a package of victims' bills to bring Mississippi up to the level of aid given to victims in other states of comparable population and economic status.

"Some of these bills were presented last year and the year before," Pittman said, "and did not get out of committee. We have studied methods of paying for the victims' programs in other states and we have some funding suggestions this year which have not been included in prior legislation.

We believe that a state which provides free medical, dental and psychological treatments for criminals who commit violent crimes can find the money to pay hospital bills for the innocent victims of these crimes."

The bills which the Attorney General will be proposing this session include:

1. A bill to compensate victims of violent crimes for actual medical expenses which occur as a result of those crimes.

2. A bill which would require that the sentencing judge be given a statement of the losses suffered by the victim and the impact the crime has had on the victim and his family and that the statement be considered before sentence is passed. The bill would also give the victim the right to talk to the judge prior to sentencing.

3. A bill which would open the meetings of the Pardon and Parole Board to the public.

4. A bill which would assign an additional staff member to each of the state's 20 district attorneys. This staff member would be responsible for working with victims, keeping them informed about the various steps of the criminal justice proceedings and helping them to understand what is happening, from the grand jury presentation through the release of the criminal from prison.

5. A bill which would give judges more leeway in denying bail to defendants prior to trial and after conviction, while the criminal is waiting for an appeal to the state Supreme Court. These appeals can take up to two years, and as our system now exists, the judges must allow bail and let the convicted criminal stay free during this time. Judges should be able to determine in all crimes whether or not the defendant is a danger to society.

6. A bill to allow employers and prospective employers to check for prior criminal records of any person who is or will be working with children. This bill was introduced last year by Sen. George Smith of Gulfport, but did not pass. It is a very important bill and is included this year in the model legislation proposed by both the American Bar Association and the National Association of Attorneys General. Some very tragic events have proven the need for the law nationwide.

7. A bill which would give the victim the same right the criminal now has to stay in the courtroom while the trial is in progress. This is a constitutional right of the defendant. Why should the person who committed the crime have rights denied to the innocent victim of that crime? Alabama has a law which allows the victim to sit at the table with the prosecutor during the trial. We will be proposing and backing a bill which would do the same thing for Mississippi victims.

8. A bill which would allow the county to pay for the medical examination of the victim necessary for a rape trial. Under the present law, the victim has to pay for his examination herself, though the county is authorized to pay the other costs of the prosecution.

9. A bill which would prohibit the convicted criminal from being allowed to profit from the sale of any books, movie rights or other contracts which arise from his crime. This bill has been introduced several times and has not passed, but we will be proposing it again this year. We know of at least three Parolemen inmates who are considering books and/or movies based on their crimes.

We believe that these people should not be allowed to profit from their heinous, violent acts which in each case resulted in the deaths of innocent persons. Under the provisions of this bill, any profits from such contract would go into a fund to aid victims.

These bills should pass during this session, and they will—if you will help. Please call your senators and representatives and ask for their support. If you would like for the Attorney General or a member of his staff to come and talk to a civic or church group about the victims' rights program, we would be glad to have the opportunity to do so. If you have a club or group which would like to hear about this program, call Pat Flynn at the Attorney General's Office, 359-3656.

KEYS ADDRESSES SUPERVISORS

Special Assistant Attorney General Sam Keyes is representing the Attorney General's Office at the district meetings of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors, held on the campuses of the junior colleges across the state from Oct. 7 to Oct. 17.

Keyes is giving an update on the Attorney General's Office and recent opinions that affect supervisors and county government. The meetings are cosponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

CONSUMER DIVISION EXPOSES SCAMS

A newspaper ad which promised guaranteed loans to persons with bad credit, regardless of income or employment, was exposed as fraudulent by the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in September.

Richard Miranov, doing business as "Moony Line," entered into an Assurance of Voluntary Compliance with the Attorney General on Sept. 26, in which he agreed to cease doing business in Mississippi and to make refunds of $25 each to approximately 80 individuals.

Although the ad talked of "cash loans of $1,000 to $50,000," all the customer got for the $25 he was required to send in was information on how to obtain loans.

The complaint was brought to the Attorney General's Office by both prospective customers seeking information and the Mississippi Banking and Consumer Finance Commission.

The Consumer Protection Division also was instrumental in stopping Gulf Port Tool Company, selling defective and potentially dangerous paint sprayers, from doing business in Mississippi.

After the company, which operated from the back of a truck with heavily advertised "special" sales, was prohibited from selling their product in Mississippi, they went to Louisiana.

Based on information furnished to Louisiana officials by the Consumer Protection division, three individuals working for the company were arrested in New Iberia and are currently in jail awaiting trial. The Louisiana court has set bond at $15,000 per individual.

JAPANESE EDUCATORS VISIT

Twenty-eight educators from Isikawa Prefecture, Japan, visited Mississippi Sept. 23-27 on a trip hosted by Attorney General Ed Pittman and State Superintendent of Education Richard Boyd. The group toured area schools, the Old Capitol, the Governor's Mansion and other points of interest.

Bay Tigers take two-point victory over Hancock

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Before their largest home crowd ever, the Bay Senior High Tigers defeated county-rivals the Hancock North Central Hawks, 21-19.

"It was a great win for the Tiger squad to defeat the 5th ranked team in the state," said Bay Head Coach Cleveland Williams.

The game was full of excitement and was the first time the offense and defense has come together to do what they are supposed to do, he added.

Williams and Hawk Head Coach Irvin Favre commented on the "real team effort" by both squads.

"We got beat by a good football team and I want to give members of the Bay team and their coaching staff a lot of credit," Favre said.

The Hawks had opportunities to win but the fumbles and inability to connect on the extra points cost the game, he said.

"We actually scored as many touchdowns as the Bay did, but the missed extra points caused us the loss," he added.

Favre believes some Hawk players and coaches were looking ahead to next week's district playoffs against d'Iberville.

"I don't feel that we were as fired up as the Bay team but I hope if anyone was holding back they will let go next week," he added.

Although the Tigers completely shut down the passing game of the previously undefeated Hawks, Hancock still led in total offense with 213 yards to the Tigers 152.

Williams said the momentum in the game switched to the Tiger's side when Senior Quentin Bell picked up a Hawk fumble and ran it down to the 3-yard line.

He also credits the entire defensive line and "secondary" with an "outstanding" game.

The Tigers received the opening kickoff and drove downfield to score within six minutes.

Mark Havery started the drive with a 7-yard gain. Aaron Whavers added 13 yards on four carries and Quentin Bell gained 12 to put the Tigers inside the 10-yard line.

Whavers rushed for six more and then carried the ball in for the touchdown.

Brian Lanaux made the extra point to give the Tigers an early lead, 7-0.

Defensive squads for both teams dug in and held their respective opponents scoreless from the remainder of the first quarter and about eight minutes of the second quarter.

Taking possession on their own 44-yard line following a Tiger punt, the Hawks moved 56 yards in six plays to score their first points of the game.

Donald Vince carried twice for 11 yards in the drive.

Burton started with a short two-yard gain but exploded downfield in a 25-yard run which put the Hawks on the 17-yard line.

Following an incomplete pass, Burton on the run again crossed the goal line on a 17-yard touchdown run.

Larry Beech kicked the extra point to even the score.

However, the Tigers came right back to recapture the lead with a 97-yard touchdown return of the kickoff by Dante Curry.

The extra point kick by Lanaux was good.

The Tigers led 14-7 at the half. Hancock opened the second half of the game with a scoring drive beginning from their own 33-yard line.

Vince started the drive with a 4-yard gain and Quarterback Brett Favre added five on a keeper play.

Another five-yard gain by Vince gave the Hawks a first down near mid-field.

Burton broke loose again to gain 33 yards and put Hancock inside the 20. Delano Lewis added nine yards and Burton another two.

On a keeper Favre carried the ball in the endzone.

The extra point kick was wide.

The Tigers punted away their next possession and the Hawks took over on the 46-yard line. Burton gained 14 yards and a first down before Lewis spotted, an opening and raced downfield 32 yards to score.

The Hawks gained the lead for the first time in the game with 5:22 left in the third quarter but a two-point conversion attempt failed.

Early in the fourth quarter, Bell scooped up a Hawk fumble and took it down to the Hawk 3-yard line but the Tigers lost the ball on their first down, also on a fumble.

The Hawks were unable move the ball and had to punt from their own 3-yard line.

A 59-yard punt by Favre was returned 19 yards to give the Tigers first and 10 inside Hawk territory.

Lanaux rushed for five yards on two plays. Tiger Quarterback Dwayne Robinson connected with Robert Hargett for a nine-yard gain and a first down.

Robinson added four on a keeper play.

Whavers rushed for two down to the Hancock 23 and then carried it on in for the points.

Lanaux kicked the extra point.

With 4:15 the Hawks took over and pushed down field to the 22-yard line in five plays but the Tiger defense stood strong and a series of incomplete passes turned the ball over on the downs.

The final score was 21-19.

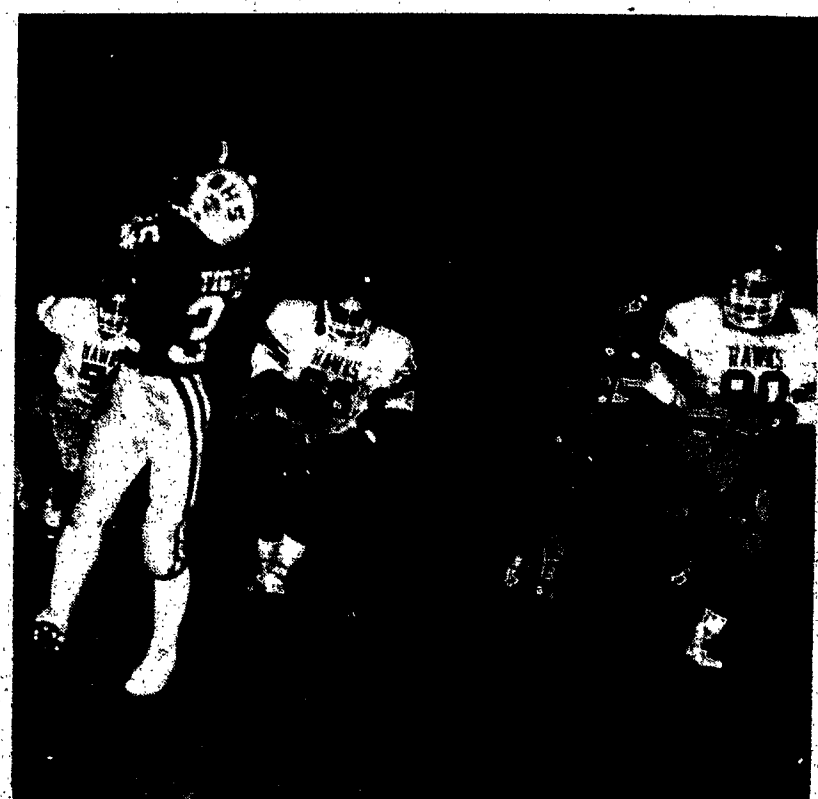

In final regular season play, the Hawks will travel to d'Iberville next week and the Tigers will visit St. Stanislaus.

Pirates hex Rockchaws, 36-0

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Pass Christian's Pirates Friday shook off a first quarter threat, scoring in all three ensuing periods to overwhelm the Rockchaws of St. Stanislaus, 36-0.

The Pirates posted touchdowns twice in the second period, once in the third and twice again in the final stanza for a 30-point total.

A two point conversion run in the second period and two-point runs following the fourth quarter touchdowns added the additional six points for the Pirates.

Rockchaw running back Gino Ascani took the opening kickoff on his own five and picked up 15 yards before being halted at the 20.

Ascani's run set the stage for a sustained Rock drive to the Pirate 25 in which they controlled the ball for more than eight minutes of the 12-minute first quarter.

A 15-yard scamper by quarterback Shannon Garrett plus an additional 15 yards on a Pirate facemask infraction pushed the Rocks into Pirate territory after seven tries from scrimmage.

Quarterback Ya-Sin Shabazz added 10 yards to another 15 yards courtesy of the officials when the Pirates were called for interference with tight end Freddy Wirstrom as he attempted to bring in a Shabazz pass near the Pirate ten.

That combination set the Rocks up with a first-and-ten at the Pirate 25, but a couple of incomplete passes and a 15-yard loss on an offensive interference call forced the visitors at Pirate Stadium to punt from near the 45 on fourth down.

That first quarter drive to the Pirate 25 was as far as the Pirate defenses would allow their guests to penetrate for the remainder of the contest.

The Rocks continued to struggle for some momentum, twice opting to go for it on fourth down rather than punt, but they never managed to get closer than the Pirate 35 when their opponents also chose not to punt on a fourth-down-and-five situation in the second period.

The Pirates devastating offensive machine rolled into action as soon as the Rocks relinquished the ball after their long, first quarter drive.

Rock split end Bob Betcher's punt went out of bounds at the Pirate 10, and fullback David Vonture opened the Halloween offense for the hosts with a 13-yard run.

A 30-yard run by tail back Shinnal Conway highlighted a Pirate drive to within three yards of the Rock goal line; before Vonture plunged over for the first touchdown just seconds into the second period.

Conway ran in for two points putting the Pirates ahead 8-0.

Stanislaus was held deep in their own territory four three tries before punting.

The Pirates got their hungry fingers on the ball again near the Rock 40 and on third down quarterback Horace Lizana threw a 20-yard pass to back Shawn Ausmer who ran the additional 20 for the second Pass Christian touchdown some six minutes after the first.

Lizana's run for two was nullified by a motion call, and his following toss to wingback Steven Swanier went incomplete, leaving the Pirates out front 14-0.

Stanislaus failed to move the ball on two additional second-quarter possessions.

A final Pirate possession in the second period was stalled when Rock tackle Jose Lau sacked Lizana and ended when the clock ran out on a 20-yard run by Conway.

The Pirates' third quarter touchdown was set up by a double trade-off when the Rocks picked up a Pass fumble near the Stanislaus 35.

The Pirates immediately regained control at the same spot when the Rocks fumbled on first down.

The Pirates capitalized on the advantage with a scoring drive highlighted by the running prowess of Vonture, Lizana and Conway.

Conway is credited with the score, diving over from inches out with one minute left in the period.

The Pirates took too much time setting up for the extra point and Conway's kick from five yards further out was no good. The Pirates are out front 20-0 going into the fourth quarter.

The defense—bolstered by the play of Jack Simpson, Jim Bradley and Jose Lau—held the Pirates to short gains on that scoring drive with ten plays necessary to get on the board.

The Pirates initiated their fourth scoring drive after a Rock bomb from Shabazz to Wirstrom on fourth down from the Stanislaus 42 went incomplete.

The Pirates picked up major yardage on a 15-yard personal foul call and on a 10-yard run by tight end Eric Dawkins and shorter bursts by Conway, Lizana and Vonture.

Conway took the touchdown honors from the ten with 4:35 remaining in the game.

Vonture ran in for two, giving the Pirates a 28-0 lead.

LaShan Ausmer opened the Pirates' final charge with a six-yard gain, but lost a 20-yard run to an illegal motion call.

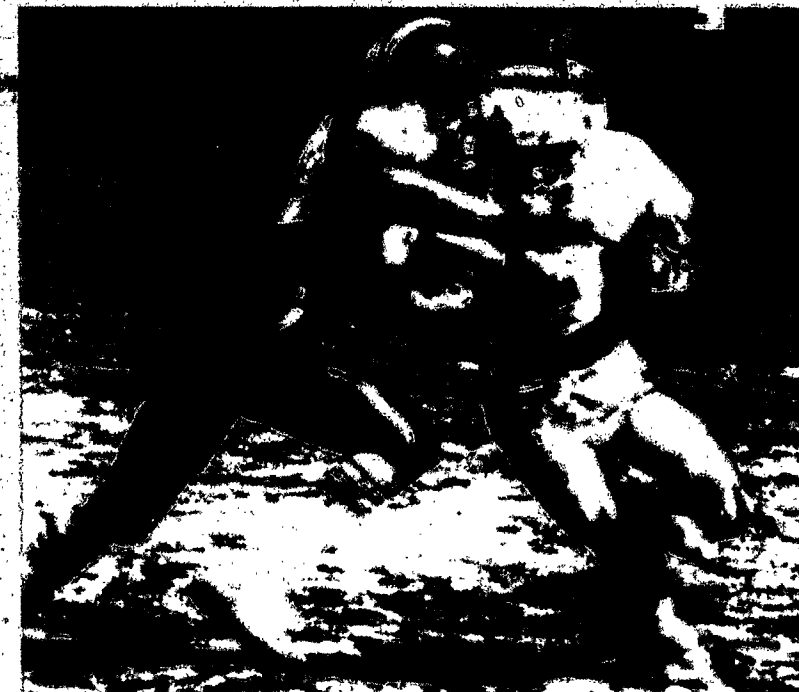

The drive was further stalled when the Pirates were punished for clipping, which placed them at their own 35 on third down with 21-yards-to-go for a first down.

Pirate fullback Shawn Ausmer added a late thrill for the home crowd with an electrifying 66-yard dance into the Stanislaus end zone with 21 seconds left in the game.

Not to be outdone in the scoring department, tail back LaShan Ausmer ran in for two to fix the scoring at 36-0, Pirates.

The 3-6 Pirates will close out their 1986 season Friday with homecoming celebration highlighted with a visit from the neighboring Long Beach Bearcats.

St. Stanislaus, 1-8, will entertain intracity rival Bay High Friday to bring down the curtain on its 1986 season.

With feeder pig prices high and top hog prices holding steady, one can't afford to lose one pig. Boars and sows should be in good physical shape going into winter, and be sound on their feet and legs.

PORK PRODUCERS

A new law is going into effect that will touch all swine producers requires that all swine producer to check off when they sell at the market. Money generated will be used to promote pork consumption and develop market abroad.

Erosion in Hancock County is a costly problem. In fact, Mississippi is third in the nation in soil erosion. The average acre of farmland in Mississippi loses 10.9 tons per acre, 7.1 ton per acre in Hancock County.

But some farmers have become alarmed at this and are doing something to stop so much erosion. Some farmland in Hancock County and Southern Mississippi is beginning to look different.

Some of the soybean fields don't have that neat, parade formation, the look of traditional cropland. The gaps between the rows—clean spaces traditionally are filled with dead plant, stalks, grasses, and stray weeds.

These days when it is harvest time for soybeans and planting time for winter wheat there is frequently another unexpected sight—combines in the fields cutting down the soybeans followed by planters popping wheat seeds into the ground right behind.

These farms aren't being plowed as much as they once were.

The moldboard plow, the classic symbol of farming since its invention in the 1700's is not used as much as it once was. By one estimate, one-quarter of the nation's cropland was not plowed this year.

The plow has become a villain, blamed for causing soil erosion and stream pollution and for costing farmers unnecessary fuel and labor.

Replacing it are a variety of techniques with names that tend to depend on one's viewpoint. Supporters refer to them collectively as "Conservation Tillage," because the methods prevent soil erosion.

The most radical form of conservation tillage is no-till. Farmers who practice it do not disturb the soil at all and rely entirely on chemicals to control weeds.

They plant their seeds in the stubble of the previous crop and do not cultivate between the rows as the crops grow.

Less extreme is "minimum tillage," in which the soil is lightly churned to aid in planting and in controlling weeds.

The idea behind these tillage systems is to make use of the roots and residue of previous crops. If they are not plowed under, they hold onto the topsoil and prevent it from running off to silt up ditches and creeks.

Farmers usually try these methods of farming not because of erosion control, but because of economics.

Conservation tillage is cheaper than conventional tillage. Less trips across the field, saves fuel, labor and repair costs. These savings more than make up the extra money spent on herbicides.

Conservation tillage system works well in Mississippi with corn, soybeans, wheat, and other grains and the yields were generally about the same as conventional tilled crops. Conservation tillage required better management because the timing and proportion of the chemicals are critical.

Methodist Children's Center lists outside activities

During the past two months the three and four year old preschool classes of the Methodist Children's Center have been to some exciting places.

On Sept. 24, the three and four year olds visited the Bay St. Louis Fire Department in observance of fire safety week.

The children were given a chance to explore the fire truck, operate the fire hose, and try on the firemen's safety gear.

After touring the station the children viewed a fire safety film and fire chief Andrew Lizana distributed fire department pencils to the children. All the children enjoyed the tour and learned a great deal about fire safety.

In October the preschool classes were conducted through McDonald's Restaurant in Waveland. After touring the kitchen and storage areas, the children were served Coke, cookies, and ice cream.

ETV Brief

RURAL BASEBALL
"Mississippi Roads" visits two of Mississippi's rural baseball teams—the Camden Red Sox and the Boken Devils—at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 4, on Mississippi ETV. Joe Lee Gowdy of Camden, manager of the Red Sox, gives some background on the teams, and viewers get to see the two teams battle it out on a country diamond in Camden.

"Roads" nature break this week is at Tanica County's Moon Landing, where the levee separates the Delta from the waters of the Mississippi.

The arts segment this week features Lucile Parker of Hattiesburg, who authored the book "Mississippi Wildflowers."

For musical entertainment, legendary bluesman James "Son" Thomas of Leland and the Ditch Band of Meridian perform at the Second Annual Chunky Rhythm and Blues Festival. Members of the Ditch Band are Stephen Cole Smithson, Phillip Whaley, Leon Williams, Joey Ethridge, Tommy Ethridge and Clay Barnes, all of Meridian.

In the weekly cooking segment Bobbye J. Porter, owner/chef of the Post House restaurant in Natchez, prepares her mother's bread pudding with lemon butter sauce.

LISTED BELOW ARE THIS WEEK'S SPECIALS AT THE NEW DELCHAMPS.

You guessed it. Nothing. The New Delchamps doesn't have weekly specials. Instead, we have Everyday Minimum Pricing. Pricing that's absolutely lower on every item. Every day.

You see, in the long run, weekly specials don't really save you money. Because when a supermarket has specials, they have to keep the prices higher on everything that's not a special. So the money you thought you saved on the weekly special is lost on everything else.

The New Delchamps has eliminated these specials to bring you

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING

ABSOLUTELY LOWER PRICING! S.M.

And when you see what you'll save on your total food bill, you'll be glad to see your last special.
